

THE FUTURE OF WORK

ACADEMY EXPLORING THE TENDENCIES OF THE FUTURE

Extreme change requires leaders to adopt new forms of leadership. The Future of Work is an academy focusing on setting you up for success by embedding change and innovative tendencies in a Nordic leadership approach as a means to enhance your organization's ability to embrace the future of work.

Innovation Centre Denmark, Transforma & International Management Education (IME) have designed an exploration of innovation and modern-day high performance based on Nordic leadership characteristics. You will experience how this inclusive, trusting and collaborative style holds value as a leadership model for the future.

Through a line of workshops, developing an individual future of work-case and a five-day academy in Silicon Valley, the outcome of participating in the Future of Work is to:

- develop your leadership skills,
- identify your organizational challenges,
- create a platform for real change,
- collect inspiration from the innovation frontline,
- and establish relationships across organizations & borders.

Real organizational change prerequisites development on both a personal and organizational level. To accomplish this, the learning journey is rooted in a sophisticated framework of psychological elements.
